Mr Fraser Bruce has been associated with structural waterproofing since 1966. Our company's workmanship has been proved in many situations throughout the UK where the passage of water has been a problem.

Whilst our works have been continually proved successful it requires the expertise of skilled teams such as those employed by The Fraser Bruce Group to ensure the correct application of the chosen product or system.

Waterproofing Ltd has been established as part of The Fraser Bruce Group to concentrate solely on the waterproofing contracts which have become a major part of our specialist service. Our service can be of assistance to engineers, architects, contractors and many others who experience water infiltration that "shouldn't be there".

We utilise products from several manufacturers who do not have their own contracting service but who rely on their chosen specialist applicators to use their product successfully.

We will be only too pleased to discuss, inspect and offer specifications and prices for resolving your water infiltration problems.
